I have known John Arundel for two years in his capacity within JA Recruitment. As a medium sized construction business the selection of staff is paramount in growing, developing and achieving targets and goals.

John has a clear understanding of our business and has successfully recruited key personnel enabling Drytech to become high-respected and profitable.

As a business we have used a number of recruitment agencies including our own advertising. It is typical to have candidates offered which bear little to the requirements of the job. This leads to wasted time and frustration. Whilst recruitment is vital, having Managers time wasted through interviewing poor candidates is extremely non-productive.

John's approach differs greatly from other agencies, as he provides thoughtful and experienced recommendations. His candidates are all suitable and eligible for the positions available, leaving interviewing a simple and final process in the recruitment chain.

I cannot recommend JA Recruitment highly enough and see them as an essential partner in the continued growth and development of my Businesses.
